At Amada we look for ways to make simple, everyday tasks special. Amada's in-home caregivers not only take care of daily essentials like cooking and cleaning, they also go above and beyond to make their clients smile. We know in-home care isn't just about performing tasks on a to-do list. It can be hard for seniors to accept new limitations and open their home up to a stranger. Our caregivers understand that it's essential to show compassion and really connect with their clients to make the changes easier.

Amada caregivers are trained to provide assistance with activities of daily living (ADLs) like: bathing, dressing, meal preparation, medication reminders, light housekeeping, errands/shopping, etc.

Institute on Aging's 24-hour toll-free Friendship Line is the only accredited crisis line in the country for people aged 60 years and older, and adults living with disabilities. We also make on-going outreach calls to lonely older adults. While there are other organizations that respond to the needs of people who may be contem Plating suicide, none provides the type of services that IOA's Friendship Line offers to respond to the public health problem of suicide among the elderly. Knowing that older people do not contact traditional suicide prevention centers on a regular basis even if they are considering suicide, we created the only program nationwide that reaches out to lonely, depressed, isolated, frail and/or suicidal older adults. Our trained volunteers specialize in offering a caring ear and having a friendly conversation with depressed older adults.

Institute on Aging's 24-hour toll-free Friendship Line is the only accredited crisis line in the country for people aged 60 years and older, and adults living with disabilities. We also make on-going outreach calls to lonely older adults. While there are other organizations that respond to the needs of people who may be contemplating suicide, none provides the type of services that IOA's Friendship Line offers to respond to the public health problem of suicide among the elderly. Knowing that older people do not contact traditional suicide prevention centers on a regular basis even if they are considering suicide, we created the only program nationwide that reaches out to lonely, depressed, isolated, frail and/or suicidal older adults. Our trained volunteers specialize in offering a caring ear and having a friendly conversation with depressed older adults.

Our Catholic Faith is not the product of man-made traditions, nor is it novel. What we believe is founded upon what God has revealed in history by word and deed in the Old and New Covenants. This Faith is the Faith of the Apostles, faithful to the Apostolic Tradition – guarded by the power of the Holy Spirit – as it was written down in the New Testament and as it is perpetuated throughout the course of history in the Liturgy and the ministry of those same Apostles’ successors, the bishops of the Catholic Church. It is the faith shared by over 1 billion disciples of Jesus the Christ.

We covenant with each other. As followers of Jesus. To gather faithfully to worship God who gives us life. To study the meaning of our faith. To share our joys and sorrows. To take the time to know and be known by each other. To give unselfishly of our time and money. To translate the words of faith into acts of compassion and mercy. To work for peace in our troubled world. To take a stand for human rights. To actively affirm the equality and dignity of all God's children. To strive for social and economic justice. Remembering that in a world of limited resources, those with more must consume less. So that those with little or nothing may have enough. This covenant we will honor. God being the source of our strength.

Shiva Murugan Temple

Phone: (925) 326-1746

Address: 1803 2nd St, Concord, CA 94519

Website: <https://www.temple.org/>

The temple was originally established in a small wood framed house in San Francisco, California, way back in 1957, by an American born Hindu guru, Sivaya SubramuniyaSwami. It may have been the first Hindu Temple to be opened in America that was beyond the scope of the various Vedanta centers that existed at that time. Offering Pujas to murtis of Ganesha, Muruga and Shiva, it was founded on the traditions of Saiva Siddhanta and known as the Palaniswami Sivan Temple. It quickly became a popular site for the ever growing populace of newly arriving Hindus, some of whom personally knew of the Sage from Sri Lanka, YogaSwami, who initiated the American Guru. grow over the years, and on traditional festival days, the small temple could hardly accomodate the crowd of devotees. In 1988, to better facilitate the Hindu community, the temple was moved to a larger site in Concord, CA. The site was chosen due to availability and the fact that it had always been a place of worship.

The mission of the CDVA is to Serve California's Veterans & their Families. More specifically, to provide California veterans and their families with aid and assistance in presenting their claims for veterans' benefits under the laws of the United States; to provide them with beneficial opportunities through direct low-cost loans to acquire farms and homes; and to provide the state's aged or disabled veterans with rehabilitative, residential, and medical care and services in a home-like environment at the California Veterans Homes. This mission is based upon the philosophy that programs of benefits for veterans fulfill necessary, proper, and valid public purposes by promoting patriotism, by recognizing and rewarding sacrifice and service to country, and by providing needed readjustment assistance to returning veterans and their families, whose lives were interrupted when they responded to their country's call to military service.

We covenant with each other. As followers of Jesus. To gather faithfully to worship God who gives us life. To study the meaning of our faith. To share our joys and sorrows. To take the time to know and be known by each other. To give unselfishly of our time and money. To translate the words of faith into acts of compassion and mercy. To work for peace in our troubled world. To take a stand for human rights. To actively affirm the equality and dignity of all God's children. To strive for social and economic justice. Remembering that in a world of limited resources, those with more must consume less. So that those with little or nothing may have enough. This covenant we will honor. God being the source of our strength.

Key Spouses are trained volunteers that provide personal, peer-to-peer support for their squadron's families. Their role is to care for families by providing them with information from their squadron's leadership about events, programs, and other available resources during periods of separation. As an official unit representative, they also serve as a point of contact when spouses need to communicate any difficulties they may be experiencing to their leadership. As fellow military spouses who also live with and adapt to military lifestyle cycles and changes, they are passionate about what they do! They are a critical team member of each squadron's leadership, and they are informed, equipped, and empowered to make a difference on base and in the lives of their squadron's families.

Assessment/Crisis Counseling is a short-term consultation for individuals, couples, and families. This counseling is geared to facilitate understanding, build skills, and increase effectiveness of daily living. You will also learn how to relate to others and discuss coping with major life events. Specific areas of concern include may include grief, communication, divorce, moving, etc. Referrals are made to on and off base agencies as needed.

Travis AFB Airman & Family Readiness Center: Emergency Assistance

Phone: (707) 424-2486

Address: 351 Travis Ave

Travis AFB, CA 94535

Website(s):<http://www.travisafrc.com/articles/view/emergency-assistance-2-4af99bc4-e4d0-40f3-b5eb-7566ac100b8a>

Emergency assistance usually combines an assessment of the emergency situation and an evaluation of the personal budget to arrive at a decision to make an interest free loan, a grant, or combination of both. Financial assistance is given when a qualifying individual cannot otherwise pay for specific basic needs essential to continued personal effectiveness as a military member. Funds may be given for verifiable emergency situations including food, emergency travel, vehicle repair, rent (initial rent and security deposit or eviction), and the prevention of utility disconnection.

Key Spouses are trained volunteers that provide personal, peer-to-peer support for their squadron's families. Their role is to care for families by providing them with information from their squadron's leadership about events, programs, and other available resources during periods of separation. As an official unit representative, they also serve as a point of contact when spouses need to communicate any difficulties they may be experiencing to their leadership. As fellow military spouses who also live with and adapt to military lifestyle cycles and changes, they are passionate about what they do! They are a critical team member of each squadron's leadership, and they are informed, equipped, and empowered to make a difference on base and in the lives of their squadron's families.

The mission of the CDVA is to Serve California's Veterans & their Families. More specifically, to provide California veterans and their families with aid and assistance in presenting their claims for veterans' benefits under the laws of the United States; to provide them with beneficial opportunities through direct low-cost loans to acquire farms and homes; and to provide the state's aged or disabled veterans with rehabilitative, residential, and medical care and services in a home-like environment at the California Veterans Homes. This mission is based upon the philosophy that programs of benefits for veterans fulfill necessary, proper, and valid public purposes by promoting patriotism, by recognizing and rewarding sacrifice and service to country, and by providing needed readjustment assistance to returning veterans and their families, whose lives were interrupted when they responded to their country's call to military service.
